The CPR Outfit covers a lot of range. You old boys have worked over lots of it, and we are sure glad to have you camp at our wagon tonight. We told the cook to make it good. All ranch bosses have told cooks many things. Sometimes they do it. Tonight let's live over the "old days," they were good ones. The results of the hard work of the old time range men are to be seen all over the Northwestern Canadian range country. Their efforts through the long years have done much to produce the present prosperity. Old time range men we salute you! We are glad you are here, and hope you are.

HELP YOURSELF

THE RANGE MEN'S DINNER

The old cowboys and ranchers
Who rode Alberta's range
Are not as young as they used to be
But still they do not change.
The love for a horse stays with them,
The smell of saddle leather still is sweet.
They like the sound of the squashy turf
Beneath a horse's feet.

Their crop was the grass on the prairie,
Beef cattle big and fat,
A forty dollar saddle,
A ten dollar Stetson hat;
Rain in the summer,
A chinook when the snow was deep;
A friend who fed them and their horse
And found them a place to sleep;
A cook who kept the coffee pot on;
A day or two in town;
A horse that would take them safely home
Long after the sun went down;
A moonlight night to ride herd on,
A boss who knew his stuff;
Six cent beef for the rancher,
For the puncher—Horses not too rough.

Time has changed this picture:
Today we don't ride so far.
Once a year we gather here
As guests of the C.P.R.
This outfit was a part of the life we lived,
They knew us for what we were.
They run the round-up wagon now—
It is known as "The Palliser."

Time has changed this country,
Maybe it has changed us too.
The old landmarks have disappeared,
There is little left for us to do.
Many of our friends are gone,
Some have travelled far;
But in the heart of all of us
Is a place for the C.P.R.
